FROM FR. JOE...

Next Sunday we'll be privileged to welcome Bishop Terry LaValley to our community on a "just because" visit, as he tries to stay in touch with the many parishes of the Diocese of Ogdensburg. Bishop will be offering the 8:30am Mass at St. Helen's and the 10:30am Mass at St. John Bosco, and looks forward to having the opportunity to pray with you and meet you then.

We're still basking in the glow of our very successful Holy Harvest Festival a couple of weeks ago! And we need to say thank you to a few more benefactors who didn't make it on our list before our last bulletin deadline: Bonesteel's Gardening Center, Paul Howard Farms, and Scott Robinson. We're so grateful for your generous contributions!

"The vineyard of the Lord is the house of Israel."
(Psalm 80)

All faculty, staff and volunteers at Holy Family School are trained in Virtus, training to increase one's knowledge and awareness of child sexual abuse and how one can help prevent the sexual abuse. Faculty and staff also must be certified in Religious Studies through the Growth In Faith (GIF) Program provided by the Diocese of Ogdensburg. As with their counterparts in the District, all teachers and staff must agree to background checks.

Holy Family School continues to excel in so many ways, helping to form citizens who are believers and live out their lives as productive Catholics. As our own local history has shown there are plenty of reasons for us to take proud ownership of the Catholic Schools of Malone past and present: Bishop Smith Memorial School, Notre Dame School, St. Joseph's Ursuline Academy and now Holy Family School. For more information contact the school at 483-4443, e-mail us at hfsp@twcny.rr.com or check our website at malonehollyfamily.org
